Canon Marketing Japan Inc. (President & Representative Director: Masachika Adachi; hereafter, "Canon MJ") announced today that it has decided to implement an absorption-type merger of its wholly owned subsidiary, Canon IT Solutions Inc. (President: Akira Kanazawa; hereafter, "Canon ITS") with another wholly owned subsidiary, TCS, Inc. (President: Hiroyuki Yamagishi; hereafter, "TCS"), with Canon ITS as the surviving company and TCS as the merged company, effective on July 1, 2025.

As announced on June 12, 2024, the Canon MJ Group has been preparing for the integration of TCS, which it made its wholly owned subsidiary in October 2023 mainly for the purpose of strengthening its IT platform business, including design and construction of IT infrastructure, system maintenance and operation, and data centers, with Canon ITS as the core company in the Group's IT solutions business. The Canon MJ Group believes that integrating the two companies will be the best way to maximize their synergies within the Group. As a result, Canon MJ has decided to execute the integration effective on July 1, 2025, as described below.

Purpose of the integration

- (1) Integrating technologies, expertise, and human resources related to design and construction of IT infrastructure, system operation and maintenance, data centers, and others, at which TCS is strong, with Canon ITS so as to accelerate the reinforcement and expansion of the IT platform business
- (2) Enhancing the system for providing full-scale support for customers' IT lifecycles through integrated operation with the system integration (SI) service business, at which Canon ITS excels
